OTHER INDUSTRIES

A first-class start was made at the meeting of the Business Men's club last evening towards securing the $4,000 bonus necessary to bring the Hough Porch Shade company to Janesville. One thousand dollars was subscribed by members of the association present at the meeting and there is but little doubt that the other three thousand will be secured by the subscription committee.

This is not a stock subscription as the company has no stock for sale but simply a bonus to move the factory to this city. From all that can be learned of the enterprise it is one of the best propositions that has been presented to Janesville in a long time. The investigating committee were given free access to the books of the company while at Worcester and drew their own conclusions as to the worth of the business. There was not a large attendance of business men at the meeting but those who were there were enthusiastic over the proposition.

At The Meeting
The meeting was called to order by President Carle, who called on Secretary A. E. Bingham to state the object of the meeting. He told about Mr. Farnsworth coming to this city some time ago looking for a location for his factory which might be moved west if suitable arrangements could be made. Shortly afterwards Mr. Hough, the patentee of the machine came here and looked the ground over and was well pleased with the city. He and Mr. Robert M. Bostwick made a trip to Boston and Worcester and made a thorough investigation of the plant. On their way east they stopped at Chicago and visited Marshall Field's store and also visited Mandel Bros. At both of these places they were assured that the Vudor shade was the best thing in the market and was fast taking the place of the bamboo shade.

Visit Purchasers
At Niagara Falls and Syracuse they visited large stores that handled these shades and the only complaint they made was that they could not get enough shades. At Worcester they found the plant distributed around in three different blocks, because they were unable to get sufficient room in one place.

The Factory
The factory occupied about 11,500 feet of floor space and the equipment was worth $10,000. Their books showed that they were doing a large business and had about 500 of the best firms in the country for customers. The stockholders were all rich men and had no stock to sell. The company had five looms in operation and turned out about 300 screens a day.

The Patent
Mr. Farnsworth stated that he became interested in the company through Mr. Hough, who patented the machines. Last summer with one machine they did $10,000 worth of business and this year with six machines they will do about $160,000 worth of business which is about one fourth of the trade in the United States. He became interested in the west through his visiting Ohio, Michigan and Wisconsin in search of bass wood. He found that bass wood that cost them $10.50 per thousand feet in Worcester could be delivered in Janesville for $25.50 which would mean a saving of over $7,000 a year to the factory. They would employ about 125 hands and sixty per cent would be men. The plant would cost between twelve and fifteen thousand dollars. They had no stock for sale and asked the bonus to move the plant.

The Resolution
He then submitted the following proposition to the association:

The Hough Shade Company, a corporation doing business at Worcester, Mass., organized under the laws of the state of Connecticut, and manufacturing window and porch shades, being desirous of moving their plant to the west, do hereby agree to come to Janesville, Wisconsin, erect a plant consisting of a main building about 370 feet by 50 feet, with a warehouse 50 by 70, an engine house sufficient in size to accommodate at least a fifty horse power engine and boiler; all of said buildings to be separately constructed, to be built of stone and brick, thoroughly modern, equip the same with suitable machinery for the operation of their business, all in consideration of receiving four thousand dollars.

Mr. Thoroughgood
Ex-Mayor John Thoroughgood stated that he had made a private investigation of the plant and was satisfied that it was a good thing and should not be allowed to get away. He was satisfied that the business was much better than was stated by the owners. He was so well satisfied that he would contribute $250. J. M. Bostwick & Sons gave $250 and the list was run up to $1,000 in a short time.

Short Talks

GENERAL KNOX
GOES TO FRANCE

He Sails To Secure a Clear Title to the Proposed Panama Canal Route.

New York, Aug. 28.—(Special).—Attorney General Philander C. Knox, with his son, Reed Knox, sailed for Europe yesterday on the steamship Oceanic. When seen on the steamship Mr. Knox said, among other things, that President Roosevelt's speeches, in which he referred to trusts, would undoubtedly cause congress to take some action at the next meeting. He also said that it rested with the people whether the trusts be abolished or not.

"I am going abroad for the purpose of obtaining a clear title to the property bought by us from the Panama Canal Company," said Mr. Knox. "I shall also investigate the treaty between the Panama Canal company and the Colombian government which is to be transferred to us."

Title All Right:
"I have no doubt but that everything will go through all right, and the reports that I have received from Mr. Russell of the department of justice, who has been in Paris during the last six weeks, show that all is going harmoniously."

"I regard to the president's recent speeches on the trust question, I can only say that I am heartily in accord with everything that he has said. I think after what the president has said that something in regard to the trusts will be forthcoming at the next meeting of congress. The president has been making great and wise speeches, which will undoubtedly bear fruit."

Up To People.
Mr. Knox was asked to give an opinion on the prediction by Russell Sage in which he said that the formation of trusts would surely bring on a revolution.

"If the American people want the trusts done away with it will be done," Mr. Knox said. "It would be shameful for the American people to admit that they could not do anything that they wanted to."

CHIEF CROKER IS HOLDING HIS OWN

Has Secured Court Orders Returning Him to Duty Immediately.

New York, Aug. 28.—(Special).—Fire Chief Croker carried his first point in his fight against Fire Commissioner Sturgis yesterday when Justice Hall, in the Supreme court, issued a peremptory writ of mandamus ordering that the "suspended" chief be restored to duty at once as the active head of the fire department. Practically every contention put forward by the deposed chief is granted.

Counsel for the chief insisted on Friday that under the charter the commissioner could not suspend the chief, and that it was specially provided that he could be only dismissed on charges, fined, or reprimanded.

It was claimed that the action of the commissioner was an attempt to dodge the plain provisions of the charter. This the justice upholds.

(Special By Scripps-McLain.)
Manchester, N. H., August 28.—President Roosevelt arrived in this city shortly after 9 o'clock this morning. He was aroused at daylight at Clermont by shouts of "Hurrah for Teddy."

Called To Platform
The shouts were so urgent that he was forced to appear on the platform of the car, robed in a long overcoat to conceal presidential unmentionables.

Spoke At Nashua
When the president arrived at Nashua he was taken for a drive about the city. At the city hall he made a short speech. Among other utterances he said: "If you have not soldier spirit, even though you have the best rifles built, you will be beaten by a good man with a club."

His Speech
In his speech in this city, the president paid a glowing tribute to the veterans for their work during the civil war.

He then touched upon the war in the Philippines. He defended the army from the attacks which have been made upon it, and partly justified the occasional instances of cruelty.

He said that the temptation to retaliate was very great. Fearful cruelties had been inflicted upon the Americans, and the desire for retribution was great.

Advised Punishment
Although he seemed partly to defend the cruelties he said that the offenders should in every case be promptly punished. In closing the president said that it was a real marvel that there should have been so little wrong doing.

PRECIOUS METAL
ON A DECREASE

Less Number of Tons Are Now
Mined Than in Former Years.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 28.—(Special).—Directors yesterday issued his final estimate of the production of gold and silver in the United States during the last calendar year. The production of gold was 3,805,500 ounces, valued at $78,666,700, a decrease of $504,300, or .0636 per cent, as compared with the yield of the previous year. The production of silver was 55,214,000 ounces, the commercial value of which was $33,128,400. This was 2,433,000 ounces, or 5 per cent, less than was produced in 1900.

Increased Production.
Ten of the nineteen states and territories yielding gold showed an increased production, California leading with $1,075,200, an increase due entirely to the normal development of the mining industry. Nevada showed the material gain of $757,600, which came largely from the newly discovered camp of Tonahap, in Nye county although nearly every county in the state increased its production.

South Dakota also made a gain of $301,900, Idaho $144,600 and Oregon $123,400.

The greatest decrease—amounting to $1,285,300—was in Alaska. This was due to the lateness of the season, which delayed the opening of the placers, and to litigation, which interfered with the development of the industry. Colorado's production diminished $1,135,900, a fact explained by the decline in the grade of ores extracted, the tonnage having increased.

Utah Ahead.
The greatest gain in the production of silver, 1,493,200 ounces, was in Utah. Nevada, New Mexico, and Washington also made substantial gains. The production of Colorado, owing to the decline in the grade of ores extracted, fell off 2,046,100 fine ounces, while Montana's yield 886,200 and South Dakota's 458,200.

MONUMENT IS NOW DEDICATED

Impressive Ceremonies at Unveiling of the Statue
This Afternoon.

AN ARMY DINNER

W. R. C. Serve the Veterans with an Old Style
Feast.

ADDRESS BY FALLOWS

With the most impressive ceremonies the monument erected in the court house park by the people of Rock county was dedicated this afternoon. The tall statue, the gift of honor to the dead heroes of the late civil war by the county, was unveiled and formally dedicated in the presence of the remaining gray haired men who in the sixties marched under the stars and stripes that this country might be one and inseparable.

The Reunion.
All day long the veterans marched and counter marched about the streets led by the drum corps. They came from all over the county and the gray haired old men were as happy as boys as they greeted one another. They came from Clinton, from Evansville, from Beloit, from Milton, from Brodhead and from Edgerton to be present at this their annual reunion of the Rock County Veterans Association.

Their ranks are fast becoming smaller and fewer names are on the roll but they are the same proud men they were forty years ago when war and war days was under discussion.

An Army Dinner.
A genuine army dinner with lots of coffee, big platters of beans, bread, huge pies and all the emoluments of a camp, open air and all, was served at noon by the ladies of the W. H. Sargent Woman's Relief Corps No. 21. In the court house park. It was a sight to see the old boys eat and enjoy the meal. It brought back old army days when hard tack and coffee were the staples of the camp diet and men fought hard fights and made long marches on empty stomachs.

The Procession.
Led by the William Sargent drum corps with its stirring music of the fife and drum, the line of march was taken up at two o'clock. Following the old flag came the G. A. Posts of Evansville, Beloit, Clinton, Brodhead, Edgerton and Janesville. In line was a younger generation of heroes, the Morris camp of the veterans of the Spanish-American War Camp No. 193 of Beloit. These men marched with a firmer step than did the older men but they were no more enthusiastic. The procession ended at the court house park where the dedicatory exercises and unveiling of the statue took place.

Rev. Samuel Fallows.
The dedicatory address was made by that soldier minister, Rev. Samuel Fallows of Chicago. He was followed by Department Commander James H. Agen of Superior and Past National and State Commander A. G. Weissert of Milwaukee. The invocation was given by the Rev. Milton Wells, of Footville and Capt. Pliny Norcross made the responsive speech to Mayor Richardson's address of welcome.

Original Poem and Music.
An original poem was read by Mrs. T. L. Mason and the music was furnished by the G. A. R. fife and drum corps and a quartette of male voices. Col. E. O. Kimberly, the national soldier singer, sang an original song named Wisconsin.

Camp Fire Tonight.
This evening a genuine camp fire of the real old-fashioned order will be held in the East Side Odd Fellows Hall and a banquet will be served by the Woman's Relief Corps.

Business Meeting.
Shortly after ten thirty this morning President J. L. Bear of Janesville called to order the annual business meeting of the Rock County ex-Soldiers and Sailors' Union. J. W. McIntyre of this city presided at the secretary's desk. Reports were heard from various standing committees and the routine business disposed of.

Beloit Honored.
Where the next annual meeting of the association should be held was the next point for discussion. After some debate Beloit was decided upon. The election of officers for the ensuing year then followed. The results of the ballots gave the presidency to W. H. Grinnell of Beloit, W. P. Clark of Milton was chosen vice-president and the present incumbent, W. J. McIntyre of Janesville, was re-elected secretary. The present treasurer W. G. Palmer of Janesville was also re-elected in office. The ballot for chaplain resulted in the election of Rev. Milton Wells of Footville.

TOBACCO CROPS ARE HARVESTED

YIELD OF SUMATRA LEAF IS CLOSELY WATCHED.

MORE WORK THAN ORDINARY

Leaves Are Stripped in the Fields and Hung on Wires—Growers Working Hard.

The tobacco harvest is now in full swing in all sections of the growing districts. The continued spell of dry weather is just what the crop needs at the present time to ripen it and put it in condition for harvesting.

The growing crop shows great improvement as it reaches development in regard to size and quality of leaf, and gives promise of reaching the average of former years. The growers are working early and late to secure the crop in first class shape.

The farmers should be careful about hanging the crop too close in the shed, as the absence of good withering weather may lead to some damage.

Buyers Here
A number of buyers have already been in the Vernon county district and it is reported that a number of growing crops have already been contracted for, at prices ranging from ten to twelve cents. The movements of the buyers are being closely watched and should any of the large operators start buying, there will be a general scramble to secure the growing crops at once. The more conservative buyers, however, prefer to wait until the crop has been harvested before buying.

Snell Farm
The harvest of the shade grown tobacco at the Snell farm is completed and the majority of the crop was first class. Mr. W. W. Cobee, the government expert had charge of harvesting the crop and was well pleased with the outcome. Mr. Cobee is now at the Heddles farm where the harvesting is under way. The Heddles crop is a very good one, many of the plants reaching the top of the tent which is nine feet four inches from the ground.

Crop Is Good
Mr. Cobee thinks that the crop is the equal of any he has seen west of Connecticut. Shade grown tobacco is not harvested like the ordinary crop. The stalks are not cut, but the leaves are picked from the stalk and then strung on strings attached to laths. About thirty four leaves are strung on each lath and are then hung in the sheds the same as the regular crop. The leaves being detached from the stalk and being deprived from the sap that is in the stalk, cures much more rapidly than the regular crop, from twelve to fourteen days being the length of time necessary in curing.

While it costs considerably more to harvest a shade grown crop in the first place, the expense of stripping it in the winter is done away with, which means a saving in this direction.

Old Leaf
The market for old leaf is uneventful and no transactions of any moment have come to the surface. What trading that comes to dealers is in small lots to manufacturers.

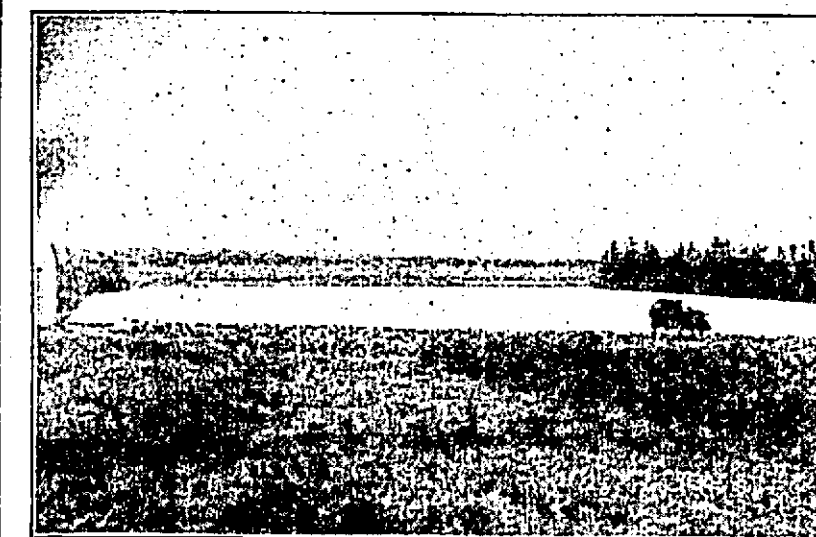

The general leaf market in New York City is crowded with out-of-town buyers who are examining the samples of the New England crop. Local dealers and manufacturers are also taken up with the same occupation. But transactions of any magnitude have as yet not taken place. The reason is not because the goods are not needed. Nor would the price be an insurmountable impediment. For dealers and manufacturers have become accustomed within the past three or four years to pay a good stiff price for New England wrappers and seconds. The reserve which the buyers show is caused by their nervousness about the condition of the crop. But, then, more or less kicking is being done every year against any and every crop till the more courageous buyers carry off the best stock and there is a great scramble to carry off the balance. Under the present condition of our cigar industry there is absolutely no surplus of suitable domestic leaf of whatever growth, and as a great deal of last year's crop had to be eliminated on account of damage the sound leaf is sure to find a ready and profitable sale. A few lots of the new crop have been sold during the week; in fact, sales are going on daily, but not to any remarkable extent.

New York.
The presence of a considerable number of "lookers," who devote their time to making memoranda of the best looking crops in the field, leads to the conclusion that packers are not favorably impressed with the condition or outlook for the growing crop, which, if generally good, would not require tails early picking and choosing. The only complaint of too much rain still applies and the inability of the farmers to cultivate the soaked soil has had not a little influence on the crop, which, taken as a whole, presents a decidedly uneven appearance. Of course, there are good spots, and it is to the location of these that the shrewd buyers are directing their attention. It has been found that the later planted leaf is in much better condition than the earlier set, and it is mainly to the former that the farmers look to at least partly retrieve the losses they have undoubtedly sustained on the latter.

Connecticut Valley.
It is a very difficult matter to get a line on the general condition of the tobacco crop, for each tobacco crop has apparently had a different experience, and consequently a report that would be perfectly true of one section would be grossly inaccurate, if applied to another. But there are three conditions that will apply almost equally to every part of the tobacco growing district. There has been decidedly too much rain for ideal growing. Nearly all crops have shown a disposition to head lower than usual, and the leaf has been exceptionally free from cutworms. The first condition it is out of human power to control or improve. As regards the low heading, it is stated that the plants are beginning to spread very rapidly, and this may result in a reduced shortage, but no one has had the hardihood to predict that the low topped plants will bear as many leaves as if the bud had appeared nearer the sky. The absence of cutworms is, of course, an undisputed blessing, but it is believed that the immunity has been considerably more than offset by the damage occasioned by the very lively hailstorms which have visited some sections, Pennsylvania.

A great deal of tobacco will be harvested this week, and if the weather is favorable much more will be put away next week. The only drawback having been some quite cool days and still cooler nights, which retarder the ripening of the plants. This coolness has now given way to more favorable weather, and in a few weeks more the bulk of the crop will be housed.

The region around Salunger and Landisville, is where the recent hailstorm is said to have done its work. It would not be easy to describe the havoc done by the hail. The writer has seen many half swept tobacco fields during the past twenty five years, but never anything to compare with the latest visitation. Many fields were found that had been ploughed down by their owners, the tobacco having been ruined beyond all possible recovery.

AIDED SICK MAN ALL HE COULD

Dr. Weiss Explains About the Sick
Tailor That Came to the City Recently.

In order that his part in the matter may not be misunderstood, Dr. Weiss wishes it stated that it is not strictly accurate to say that "he did nothing for the man" who was suffering from diphtheria. He says that he did everything that he could to see that the sick man was cared for and taken to a place where he could be safely quarantined. It was impossible to send the man back to the hotel where he had spent the night or to keep him in his own office.

The sick man who said that he had come from Denver, and was a union tailor, was accompanied by a friend, but had no relatives or friends in this city. His companion was sent to the secretary of the local tailor's union for advice. The reply was that Dr. Pember would see that the man was cared for and taken to the county hospital. Dr. Weiss accordingly directed the men across the street to Dr. Pember's office. A few moments later, as he had not seen the two enter Dr. Pember's street door he telephoned to the office of Dr. Field to ask whether a diphtheria patient had presented himself there. Receiving a negative answer Dr. Weiss at once informed Dr. Edden that the man was abroad in the city.

HORSE TRIES TO DO TRICKS

Delivery Horse of Dedrick Bros.
Wants To Be a Circus
Animal.

One of Dedrick Bros. delivery horses ran away yesterday afternoon on North Bluff street and ran down Fourth avenue to Main street. When it reached Main street it followed along the St. Paul tracks in the rear of the new Doty works and ran about a third of the way across the river on the trestle work.

Would Have Crossed
The horse would probably have kept on across the river had not the iron step on the trestle caught in the bridge and stopped him. Two men who were near by went out on the trestle and succeeded in leading the horse back to land. He had a few scratches on one of his legs, but otherwise was uninjured. The wagon was quite badly broken.

FUNNY STORIES THAT TELL TALES

ONIONS AND WATER SECURE
USE OF FAMILY HORSE.

WHO HAD CENTURY PLANTS?

Mr. Ingersoll's Wild Ride on the Outside of a Vestibule Train.

In one of the homes of this city there is a bright, precocious younger daughter, who is just entering in small measure on the rights and privileges of young ladyhood. In other words, her parents are beginning to allow her to entertain some of the young boys of her acquaintance once in a while. This young lady is very fond of driving, but as she is the youngest member of the family, it naturally results that her desires are the last to be consulted, or rather they would be if the young lady herself were not possessed of an unusual amount of ingenuity and ability to look out for her own interests.

The plans to which she resorts to secure the use of the family horse whenever she wants it, despite the plans of other members of the family, are certainly most original and novel. The young lady's father has a most violent dislike for onions and cannot endure their odor. His youngest offspring is well aware of this fact and she puts her knowledge to practical use. Whenever her father's plans to use the horse conflict with her arrangements she immediately grows solicitous for fear the animal has not been well fed and pays a visit to the barn, secretly feeding the horse with onion tops of which he is very fond. When the father of the family goes out to harness up the horse for his own use, one whiff of the animal's breath makes him so angry that he throws down the bridle in disgust and decides he prefers to walk. A short time later he is very apt to see his daughter and some young friend riding triumphantly by.

In getting the best of her older sister, this young lady or decided action is sometimes forced to more desperate measures but she always proves equal to the emergency. One evening about supper time she happened to hear her sister, who, by the way, is one of the most popular society girls in the city, talking over the telephone with a young gentleman with whom she had an engagement for the evening. In the course of the one half of the conversation, to which she listened with interest, she heard the proposition made that they should take the horse and go out driving, the evening was so pleasant. Now the younger sister had previous desires on the horse but she was wise enough to know that an argument of words would result in her defeat so she resorted to actions. Securing a glass of water, she slipped up behind her sister and deliberately turned the contents on the older young lady's head, completely soaking her hair. Now the young lady's hair is a very important part of her toilet and in the short time before her caller was due she could not possibly get it dried, curled and put in shape so that she would be willing to be seen on the streets. It was the younger sister who went riding that evening.

THRILLING FREE RIDE.

A. J. Ingersoll, Janesville's veteran traveling man, had a thrilling experience this summer that he is not likely to forget in a hurry and which he certainly does not care to have repeated. Mr. Ingersoll, who in spite of his eighty years, is one of the most active traveling salesmen on the road, was at Monroe on one of his trips. While at the depot waiting for his train, he became engaged in conversation with a friend. The train pulled in and the two continued their talk, standing opposite the last coach. Mr. Ingersoll is spry and the idea of catching the train while in motion had no terrors for him. He waited until the conductor called "all aboard" before he started. There was a crowd between him and the front end of the last coach and so he decided to board the train on the rear platform. This he proceeded to do and as he caught hold of the railings and swung himself onto the step, he was amazed at being confronted by the close door of the vestibule. Before he was time to realize his predicament, the train was going so rapidly that it was impossible for him to jump off without endangering his life. The only thing left for him to do was to hang on until the next station, ten miles away, was reached and this Mr. Ingersoll proceeded to do with a pluck and an endurance which was certainly remarkable for one of his years. There was only a narrow foot hold and the aged knight of the grip had to stand in a cramped position with his body pressed close to the vestibule and clinging desperately to the railings while the train swayed to and fro and dashed around curves. The hero of this wild and unusual ride declares that it would have been impossible for him to hold on for another mile and he now wonders how he was able to hang on as long as he did. In the future when he takes free rides at the railroad companies expense, he prefers the blind baggage to a rear step on a vestibuled coach. In fact he is almost persuaded that it is better to pay fare and ride in at least comparative comfort.

UNIQUE WEDDING DECORATIONS.

At a wedding held during the present summer in this city the bride was one of those natural practical jokers whose friends have been more than once made to serve as the victims of her fun-loving propensities and perhaps it was but just retribution that she was not allowed to escape without a taste of her own medicine. Weddings have always been her special delight and lucky indeed were her friends who went to the matrimonial altar if they did not receive some new proof of her inventive powers. Her jokes at their expense were always starling original and they always kept folks guessing as to what she would think of next. Therefore, it is not strange that when her turn came memories of by-gone days proved a sympathetic bond which united many of her relatives and friends in the common desire to "get even." Even allowing for exaggeration the reports that have leaked out from that "quiet home wedding" leave no doubt of the fact that the debt was paid, principal, interest and all. Neither the bride nor the groom were so youthful that the county clerk had any conscientious scruples about granting the marriage license and this explains the significance of the fact that the happy couple was forced, by vengeful minded friends, to stand in front of an unique bower of green during the ceremony. The principal details in this in this bower were two immense century plants. This was but a drop in the bucket to what followed, many of the jokes being so far reaching that they were never discovered until the victims were many miles away from the perpetrators.

Took the Proposition.

Frank Church, an engineer in the employ of the Chicago & North-Western Railroad company, was the central figure in an amusing incident which happened in the railroad yards at Fond du Lac not long since. One portion of the yards was completely overflowed with water to a considerable depth and Church and a companion being compelled to cross the water, decided to pole across on some boards which they thought could be used as a raft. All went well until they were in the middle of the temporary lake when some companions on dry land began to make fun at the expense of the mariners. Church was at the end of the raft, propelling it with a long pole and finally one of the spectators called out that he would give a dollar if Church would fall in the water. Hardly were the words out of his mouth when suddenly the pole went down into a hole and Church plunged head-first into the water. His quick wit did not desert him, however, and, all dripping wet as he was, he walked up to his friend on the bank and coolly demanded the dollar promised before the performance. He insisted that it was no accident at all but that he thought that it was easy money and he needed it.

STREET NOVELTY.

It is said that the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers Consolidated Shows have at last discovered a novelty for their street parade, some thing that all managers are in search of and the public will be glad to see. The novelty comprise a series of allegorical representation of the battles of our nation, by the presence in the parade of a troop of soldiers, correctly mounted and uniformed, from all the great American armies from the Revolutionary war down to the war with China, which culminated with the fall of the walls of Peking. Every costume and flag is absolutely accurate in design and material and the accountmentments of the horses are of the same degree of genuine production. These allegories are added to the already stupendous parade given by these shows, and the new waifings in the parade are greatly augmented by a large number of entirely new engines, chariots, tableau cars, cavalades, etc. It is by all odds the most pretentious street pageantry ever seen upon American streets, and will be seen when the great Forepaugh-Sells Brothers' consolidation exhibits here on Thursday, Sept. 4.

CROWDS GREET NATION'S CHIEF

MUST REACH TRADE COMBINES

Subject Should Not Be Approached in Spirit of Hostility, But With a Desire to Do What Is Best for the Whole People.

Ellsworth, Me., Aug. 28.—The President's second day in the Pine Tree State was full of interest. Starting from the governor's residence at an early hour, he was taken for a short drive about the city of Augusta, and at 9:30 o'clock left there for Bangor, where the principal speech of the day was delivered at the fair grounds in the presence of a large audience, which listened with marked attention to his address. The President confined himself to a discussion of the duties of good citizenship and did not touch upon national affairs.

General Holiday.
The same close attention was given him at Waterville, where from far and near came hundreds to see and hear the first President who had visited Maine in many years. In anticipation of his coming a general holiday was declared and all business was suspended.

Senator Hale, Congressmen Littlefield, Powers and others were with the President during his stay in Bangor. On the drive through the city the President's carriage was stopped in front of the portico of the orphan's home, where the little ones were assembled, and they greeted him in song.

Discusses Combines.
At Ellsworth the President discussed the subject of industrial combines, saying in part:

"I want to see the knife used to cut out any evil, but I want to see it used so that it will be more dangerous to the disease than to the patient. You can perfectly well reduce the prosperity of the trusts by reducing the prosperity of everybody. In 1593 no trusts flourished—nothing flourished. But we want to devise some methods by which we can minimize any evil they do without interfering with the general prosperity which is a benefit to all. We wish to avoid trying any solution of the problem which would involve us all in a common disaster—a disaster that would be felt most severely by those least well off in the world's goods.

Law Must Reach All.
"On the one hand I believe that the men of great means should understand that when we demand some method of asserting the power of the nation over all corporations, we are acting not against their interest, but in their interest.

"When we make the law obeyed by the man of means we are not acting against him; we are acting for him. His safety lies in the law, and the worst of all possible lessons to teach would be to teach our people as a whole that the law did not reach him. It must reach him to make him obey it, exactly as it reaches him to protect him from the wrong-doing of others.

Not Against Wealth.
"On the one hand, let men of great wealth realize that in seeking for this remedy we are both unalterably bent upon finding it and are doing it in no spirit of hostility to them, but in a spirit to find out what is best for them and for all of us alike."

The President dined here at the home of Senator Hale, who accompanied the party from Bangor. At the depot when the train pulled in the President was escorted to a platform near by and delivered a short address. He left at 10 o'clock for Nashua, N. H., and other points in that state.

Girl Dies of Consumption Induced by Inoculation.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 28.—Gertrude Sullivan, 10 years old, is dead as the outcome of vaccine poisoning. The girl was vaccinated in January, 1899. Following this her arm began to swell. Six months ago she was compelled to remain at home from school. A month ago the case was pronounced general tuberculosis by several physicians. The child grew weaker until she died. The certificate of death was made out giving the cause of death as general tuberculosis. Consumption is generally the last form of vaccine poisoning.

THREE DEATHS RESULT FROM POLITICAL RIOT

Inflammatory Speeches Cause Bloodshed in the Town of Humacao, Porto Rico.

San Juan, Porto Rico, Aug. 28.—There was serious political rioting at Humacao. About a hundred shots were fired. Three persons were killed and three wounded, two of the latter being in a serious condition. All of the victims were natives.

The circumstances indicate that the aggressors made a premeditated attack upon their rivals. A signal was given by the firing of two shots in rapid succession at a place outside the city, and this was immediately followed by firing in front of the principal drug store in the city. It was at this point that the principal fighting occurred. The police got the rioters under control.

Political orators at Humacao have been advocating violence for a week past. There was rioting at the same place on the occasion of the last election.

STREETS ARE RUNNING RIVERS

Water Falls in Streets in Colorado, Entailing Great Damage.

Florence, Colo., Aug. 28.—One of the heaviest rains that has ever visited the Arkansas valley fell here and great damage is reported. The water fell in sheets and, rushing down the hillsides, emptied into the Arkansas river, which was soon running bank-full. Every dry creek on the prairie was soon overrunning its banks and the streets of Florence were like rivers. Many houses on the lowlands were flooded. A cloudburst in the mountains south of here flooded everything in its path. At Canon City the streets were covered with several inches of water. Oak creek, which runs through Rockvale, overflowed. The damage to the fruit crop is very heavy.

GET HEAVY FINES FOR CONSPIRACY

Members of Henderson-Ames Company Unmercifully Scored by Judge West at Lansing.

Lansing, Mich., Aug. 28.—J. R. Hunter, J. W. Woodworth, H. P. Kauffer and S. N. Bickelstaff of the Henderson-Ames company of Kalamazoo appeared in the Circuit court and pleaded guilty to the charge of conspiracy to defraud the state by their connection with the military clothing frauds.

The charge against them was changed from perjury in connection with their testimony before the grand jury that investigated the frauds, to conspiracy to defraud the state. Hunter, Woodworth and Kauffer were each fined $2,000 by Judge West and Bickelstaff was fined $1,200 with the alternative in each case of two years in prison if the fines were not paid.

In passing sentence Judge West scored the respondents unmercifully. He said that they were contemptible in the eyes of the court, and that the court was induced to impose fines, not from pity, but from the fact that for a century courts have recognized the facts that accomplices who are used by states in the aid of justice are entitled to consideration.

DUCKS HIS WIFE JUST FOR FUN

St. Paul Woman Alleges Her Husband Was Cruel to Her.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 28.—Mrs. Joseph La Rue wants her husband arrested for being inconsiderate of her comfort. She alleges assault and battery. La Rue cannot be found. The peculiar nature of the alleged assault is that La Rue, she says, threw her into the Mississippi river three times just for fun. She says that while this was bad enough, La Rue pulled her out of the water by the hair each time, which, while possibly amusing to her husband, was painful to herself. The woman does not believe her husband was intoxicated nor insane when he thus indulged his peculiar whim. "He just did it for fun and to tease me," she asserts.

FIRE DESTROYING IDAHO TOWN

Lack of Water Permits Flames to Have Full Sway.

Harrison, Idaho, Aug. 28.—A hot fire is raging here, and the entire town is in danger of destruction. The fire started in the Cameron Lumber company's plant, the supposed cause being a spark from an engine. The Cameron plant, valued at $50,000, is already destroyed. A high wind is blowing toward the east. Should it turn toward the town there is little hope of saving it. The citizens are fighting the fire, but are almost powerless, as the waterworks throw but feeble streams.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

Along the Mohawk

The most recent and immediately successful drama entitled "Along the Mohawk" selected to open the season at the Academy, Chicago, will be presented by Julia Kingsley and Nelson Lewis at the Myers Grand on Friday, Aug. 29. The play, written by Mr. Lewis for Miss Kingsley and himself, is a pastoral comedy of exquisite beauty. Its scenes lie in the romantic valley of the Mohawk in New York state and its plot centers about a country newspaper editor, who though poor of pocket, overflows with kindness and is rich in all things lovable. The action, at times intensely humorous, at moments sentimental, presents its lights and shades of good and bad in ways always natural and interesting. Miss Kingsley brings to the aid of the play a beautiful face and figure, with the grace and abandon of a skilled actress. It can easily be said of this charming lady that her dramatic career has been one of unceasing progress; each season sees her further advanced, and it is difficult to imagine a more perfect rendition of the character called for in this play than is given by her. The face, figure, unconscious humor and natural manner of Mr. Lewis recalls at once affectionate memory of the late Sol Smith Russell, and points to the legitimate successor of the well-known actor. Mr. Lewis' performance of the country editor is something that when once seen will never be forgotten. It is doubted whether there is another on the stage who can invest the character with the heart interest, joyous mirth, and strong sympathy that his role calls for. The supporting company is uncommonly strong, the scenic effects made from photographs taken in the places shown, are of great beauty.

"The Hottest Coon in Dixie"

A feature of the "Hottest Coon in Dixie" to be seen here Aug. 31st at the Myers is that notably attractive quartette of feminine loveliness known and photographed all over the country as the "Dixie Girls." Each of the artists has a style of her own, and each is recognized as a most distinctive type of southern colored beauty. Those fascinating and good-looking singers are the Misses Mollie Sullivan, Bessie Gilson, Lottie Douglas and Bessie Kinney. Superadded to this quartette the best singer of her race in this country, Miss Grady and "The Hottest Coon in Dixie" has in its famous prima donna and associate singers a quintette of vocal richness unsurpassable on the American stage.

Cradle of the Race

After much careful study and two trips to the polar region, Louis Lindsay Dyer, professor of natural history at the Kansas university, has arrived at the conclusion that the first human beings were born and lived in the Arctic zone.

Use of Spirits in Russia

The spirits monopoly has been extended throughout the greater part of Central Asia and the northern Caucasus. All efforts to introduce local option in European Russia have failed.

Piecing.

That's a word which may not be in the dictionary in this sense of its use, but which is in very common use in some sections of the country. "She's always piecing" they say of the woman who runs to the cupboard at irregular hours and eats a piece of pie, cake, or some other dainty. This irregular eating is one of the chief causes of dyspepsia and "weak" stomach.

Diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition are completely cured by the use of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It increases the supply of rich, pure blood, and gives the body vitality and vigor.

"A year ago I was feeling very badly," writes Mrs. Lizzie Abrams, of 159 Johnson Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y. "I had a very poor appetite and when I sat down at the table I could not eat, but would have to go away without even tasting the food. Changing to hear from a friend who used your 'Golden Medical Discovery' for a disease similar to mine, I thought I would give the medicine a trial, and I can hardly express the benefit received from it. The first dose seemed to do me good. My appetite returned and I was able to eat heartily. I have improved so much since taking the 'Golden Medical Discovery' I do not look like the same person. Am today well and strong—the result of taking six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE GOOD CITIZEN

Never have the utterings of a president been so widely spread broadcast throughout the country as are those of President Roosevelt on his tour through New England. He says just the right things in the right place and his designated hearers agree with his sentiments. "The first requisite of good citizenship," said the President to a New England audience, "is that the man shall do the nobly, everyday, unassuming duties well. He has got to be a good bread winner. He has got to take care of his wife and children. He has got to be a neighbor whom his neighbors can trust. He has got to do all those everyday, ordinary things, or he is not a good citizen."

Of course, the good citizen, especially in this country, must do more than these homely duties. As one of the sovereign people of a great nation, he must devote thought and time, steadily and intelligently, to public affairs. But such activities, though absolutely necessary, are, after all, the superstructure of citizenship, while those homely and ordinary duties are the foundation, without which the superstructure cannot exist.

We have in the United States too many citizens—and sometimes it seems as if we had more than our share who seem to think that their citizenship can be all superstructure, with no foundation.

The foundation of good citizenship like the kingdom of heaven, is within us. Only those of us who first do our homely, humdrum, and often uninteresting duties as men are capable of serving the state with righteous efficiency. Only such among us are really good citizens.

This is the President's idea and it is a good one.

Out in Kansas City a business man chopped up his telephone because he could not hear through it and central would not answer promptly. That man had nerve. Some Janesville business men are tempted to do the same thing when they are in a hurry and ring and ring at that box on the wall.

King Edward is better. He is now sailing over the ocean blue in search of health. In fact Eddie says that he hopes to find it and will take care of himself in the future. What a disappointment to American chorus girls who had hoped to be favored with a smile.

J. Pierpont Morgan said that he would not pose for his picture for $5,000,000 for newspaper publication. Mr. Morgan and Bartholin of Chicago have about the same mind on that subject although for far different reasons. If Bartholin posed for a picture he would doubtless be caught.

Those Boer generals who visited King Edward wore silk hats and Prince Alberts, so they say. It is also rumored that they trimmed their beards but this part is doubtful. Anyway they made a hit.

Wisconsin democrats are too busy now keeping track of the candidates for governor on their ticket to notice how the republican ranks are getting along.

It is possible that when the republican state central committee gets together they will decide that Buckstaff and Stout are the offenders, not the men who did the bribing in the Harvey case.

At last a French physician has discovered that insanity is bred by higher education. This may explain for some of the exaggerated statements of the professors of Chicago University who have studied in Paris.

"I am a democrat" Hill has again been made the leader of democracy in New York. Mr. Hill is the gentleman who R. Croker, Esq., used as a cushion at the Kansas City convention two years ago.

General Miles is to go to the Philippines. The president has said that he might and that settles it. When Teddy says Miles can go, no one else, not even Miles had better say no.

The Mr. E. Foy who is visiting friends in Newport is not a Chinese minister but simply plain every day Eddie Foy, the comedian who began life as a bootblack in Chicago.

Hon. M. Santos-Dumont is mad. He has taken his toy balloons and gone right home. Think of it he claims that the American people are not as gullible as they used to be.

Henry Watterson has held Grover Cleveland responsible for every disaster that has happened to democracy and the country, but he forgot the Martinique disaster.

If Miss Crescy of Chicago, does not get the $50,000 she is suing for she will get her money's worth of advertising all right. It is meat for her, money no money.

Present coal prices brings forth the following cry, "God help the Rich." The poor man can burn discarded cedar blocks and scraps of wood as usual.

That Orfordville couple who were married in a lions' den last week are getting a world-wide reputation already, only the poor man is getting the worst of it.

Monte Cristo and J. Pierpont Morgan are not alike in one fact. Monte gave enormous tips, that is Dumas said so, while Morgan will not give any at all.

Uncle Ike and Governor Bob are up on Uncle's yacht. They are having a quiet time and Governor Bob is waiting and resting for more strenuous labors.

Any man who can beat Gates at his own game deserves a medal made out of diamonds. Gates is a wise one and it takes a wiser one to beat him.

The manner in which President Castro of South America, is keeping his line of retreat open is a lesson to foreign strategists.

PRESS COMMENT.

Oshkosh Northwestern: There are times when nearly every married man wonders how he happened to be hypnotized.

Marquette Eagle: Will the men, as usual, insist on sampling the preserves the housewives have just put up, as soon as they are bottled?

Adelaide King in the Milwaukee Sentinel: Come to think of it, how could a coal dealer be expected to accept a $2,000 position this year.

Racine Journal: The anti-imperialists are not feeling particularly good over the situation. The pulse of public sympathy is not with them.

Beloit Free Press: The next time the United States goes to the relief of Cuba it will be to relieve it of all future trouble by annexing it a la Porto Rico.

Racine Journal: The president in his eastern addresses is very fairly meeting with the popular approval with most enthusiastic greetings everywhere.

Chicago Daily News: That luncheon given by the Shah of Persia in London at a cost of $15,000 looked like quite a big affair with so many of the American millionaires out of town.

Cincinnati Times-Star: So far Bartholin, the Chicago murderer, has appeared in only three cities on the same day. With practice he can improve on this and push closely Tascott's record.

Green Bay Gazette: Marinette capitalists are forming a corporation to make a summer resort of Paradise Island. The thought of spending the summer in Paradise ought to draw.

Neenah Times: If David S. Rose is nominated for governor on the democratic ticket, which now looks likely owing to machine methods let the platform be a single plank as follows: "This dying for principle is all d—d rot."

Kenosha News: The formation of Spooner clubs goes right along even in the banner administration counties. It is evident that the voters take very little stock in the harmony stories.

Milwaukee Daily News: It may be that Spooner and La Follette have "mutualized," but reports that these two statesmen have embraced and called quits will hardly prove convincing until your "Uncle Ike" begins to holler.

Milwaukee Sentinel: The society item from Newport to the effect that the Duchess of Marlborough "appeared at Mrs. Fish's colonial dinner in a pink wreath and black velvet ribbons" indicates that either the duchess or the reporter omitted something.

Chicago Chronicle: As the sight of a "scab" seems to work a telegraph messenger boy up to a gait of at least five miles an hour, the telegraph managers have an obvious means of increasing the speed of their interesting employees. Let them always have enough "scabs" on hand to keep the regular force on the gallop.

Madison State Journal: The Chicago Tribune is moved to utterance upon the political situation in Wisconsin by a rumor which has reached it by way of Washington that the friends of Senator Spooner and Gov. La Follette have compromised and ceased fighting. What the Tribune has to say about the desirability of both these distinguished men being re-elected is commendable, and it grieves us to have to inform the Tribune that its Washington rumor has no foundation in fact.

Eau Claire Leader: Wisconsin is now about to add natural gas to her many other productions. It has been struck in paying quantities in Gates county and the matter is being investigated. We may expect oil now at any moment, for as a general thing natural gas and petroleum are not very far apart.

Appleton Post: The Cubans seem to be getting Americanized fast enough. The dock laborers and cart men precipitated a strike the other day which has since spread and now assumes alarming proportions. Fully 10,000 workers are now idle and these are likely to be joined by the butchers and bakers. How the candlestick makers stand is not stated.

Milwaukee Sentinel: It is said that G. A. Buckstaff has received a reply from Chairman Bryant to his letter relating to the Harvey-Carey matter. In that case the public will soon know whether Mr. Buckstaff and Senator Stout are to be classed with those who deal in "corruption and fraud" because they told the truth, or whether they will be permitted to associate longer with pure patriots like Lieutenant Kronshage.

Fond du Lac Reporter: The democrats of the Sixth district cannot afford to throw away the opportunity of electing a man from their own ranks as a member of congress, because republican newspapers contend that it is probable. They have the selection of a candidate in their own hands and the delegates who have been elected to represent them in the congressional convention to be held in this city Wednesday are certainly intelligent and strong enough to place the best man in nomination, and do it in a straightforward and business-like way.

Fond du Lac Commonwealth: The Neal Brown gubernatorial candidacy has been given somewhat of a boom by an endorsement in the hands of his home county. Mr. Brown's address before the Marathon county convention serves to outline his policy, which is one that will attract conservative democrats. There have been several indications lately that the Rose lines were weakening. The Fond du Lac county delegation which the Rose people said counted on as sure will be divided, while Washington county came dangerously near turning the Milwaukee mayor down altogether.

Madison State Journal: Bold honesty in journalism justifies in the end. When the State Journal, some weeks ago published the facts in the death of the Quixley baby, showing that the little one had starved to death, there were half a dozen communications, mostly anonymous, protesting against such publications. It was maintained that the facts had better been kept suppressed; that printing them in the papers hurt the city. But publicity put an end to immediate want. The next day there was focus in plenty at the Quixley home. But the real benefit came when the rich relative of the family, learning of the misery of those he was bound to aid, came to place them beyond all want. It was the publicity that did that.

PARROT CAUSES MAN'S ARREST

DEACON MONROE WANTED A
BIRD, AND TOOK IT.

HE THEN SOLD IT FOR WHISKY

Klein, the Owner, Objects to Such Freedom Taken with His Goods.

The desire to own a small green Mexican parrot without paying for it caused "Deacon" William Monroe to be locked up in the city jail this morning. A warrant for his arrest was sworn out for his arrest this morning before Judge Fitch by Tom Klein, a traveling dealer in parrots and canary birds charging the "Deacon" with stealing a parrot of the value of $5.

The warrant was given to Under Sheriff Wallace Cochran and he soon had the "Deacon" behind the bars in the city lock-up. The parrot was recovered later by Officer Brown from a young man by the name of Wright residing on Division street, who had bought the parrot from the "Deacon" for a drink of whiskey.

Loved the Parrot
Yesterday Monroe was driving along Milwaukee street in a buggy and happened to see Klein going along the opposite side of the street with his birds and parrots. He halted Klein and asked him to bring him a parrot which he did. The "Deacon" pretended he did not like the parrot he was examining and sent Klein back for another and while he was going after the bird the "Deacon" drove off with the parrot that he had been examining. Klein reported the matter to the police and the "Deacon" was soon in jail.

A Telegraph Operator
Klein is a telegraph operator by profession and has worked several years in Mexico. He had saved up a few hundred dollars when he conceived the plan of buying a lot of Mexican parrots and bring them to the United States for sale. Accordingly he invested the greater part of his savings in parrots and came north.

Cheap in Mexico
The parrots are very cheap in Mexico and as there is no duty on them he brought a lot of them with him. He shipped the birds by express and had a lot of his stock in the baggage car on the Rock Island road the night the train was held up by robbers near Savanna. The dynamite used by the robbers to blow up the express car fixed Mr. Klein's parrots and after the robbery was over only a few remained alive of the large number he had in the car, the force of the explosion having killed the balance of them. He filed a claim against the express company for damages and they claimed that they were not responsible as their death was caused by robbers. Klein then took what stock he had left and has been travelling about the country selling them.

Case Continued
Monroe appeared before Judge Fitch this afternoon and entered a plea of not guilty to the charge. He was not ready for trial so the case was adjourned until Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. His bail was fixed at $200.

STREET CAR MEN WANT MORE PAY

They Ask for Two Hot Meals a Day, and Also for Bigger Salaries.

The conductors and motormen employed by the Janesville street railway company have made a demand for more pay and a change in the working hours. They now get $40 per month and work from 6:15 a. m. to 10 p. m., and are allowed to leave their car for but one meal each day.

They are banded together and have demanded an increase of salary so that they will receive not less than $45 per month. They also ask that they be allowed to get two meals each day at their homes or boarding houses and that they be allowed one Sunday off in each month.

Just Their Rights
The men believe that they are not asking more than is right and considering the hours they work are receiving less pay than any laboring man in the city. Their pay is about a dollar and thirty cents a day or a trifle over eight cents an hour.

Sent to Headquarters
Their demands will be forwarded to the head offices of the company in Philadelphia and unless the concessions demanded are granted the men will refuse to work any longer.

Those New Waistings
They are very, very late, in fact so different. If looking for something entirely new you should see them. Dots, stripes and broken plaids in rough camel's hair and cheviot effects, grounds of red, black, blue, brown, white, green, &c., 42 inch, $1.50, $1.75, $2.00.

Fond du Lac Reporter: Mr. Buckstaff is having a hard time convincing the republican state central committee that it is none of his business where the money comes from to conduct the republican campaign, so long as he (Buckstaff) is not called upon to help furnish it.

Clerical Sarcasm.

The following church notice was recently exhibited: "The service on Sunday morning is at 11 a. m. The supposition that it is ten minutes later is a mistake. Young men are not excluded from the week-night service. The seats in the front portion of the church have been carefully examined. They are quite round and may be trusted not to give way. It is quite legitimate to join in the singing. The object of the choir is to encourage, not discourage, the congregation."—Pearson's Weekly.

POTATO FACTORY NEARLY READY

GREAT CARE IS BEING TAKEN IN CLEANING.

LOOKS LIKE MODEL KITCHEN

Not a Speck of Dirt Will Be Allowed—Floors Scrubbed with Lye and Water.

Cleanliness has prime place in the catalogue of the virtues by Frank Bunyan, the manager of the Janesville Concentrated Flaked Potato company. When he took possession of the Heddles Tobacco Stemming Works building the structure was redolent of the heavy pungent odor of tobacco. When the process of cleansing, which is now under way has been completed the place will be as clean as any kitchen in the city.

Thorough Cleansing Process.

Up to the present time the second and third floors have been thoroughly swept four times, both dry and after sprinkling. The next step will be scrub the entire floor with lye and water, as well as the woodwork of the rooms. After that a coating of glue will be applied to stop the cracks and lay the dust. Uncleanliness will be especially guaranteed against at every point in the manufacture of the cereal.

Building Hoppers and Bins.

Already the two main hoppers have been built which will convey the finished product from the second and third floors where the processes of manufacture will go on, to the first floor. Visitors may, by special permission, be allowed to enter the first floor, and see the work that is there going on. Farther than that no one may go, save the half dozen employees who operate the machinery, and the manager. All on the upper floors is part of the secret process.

It has been estimated that the two hoppers which have been constructed will hold the concentrated product resulting from eight hundred bushels of potatoes. They will hold the variation between the product of the machinery, and the quantity that can be handled by the packers.

To Work Nights.

A. of the product cannot be handled as it comes from the machinery for while the machinery will be probably be kept in operation constantly, the girls and men employed on the first floor will only be kept at work during the daytime. The working hours have not been fully determined but it is probable that the men in charge of the machinery will do their work in three shifts of eight hours each.

Ingenious Machinery.

The most notable fact to be gleaned from the meagre information which Mr. Bunyan thinks is advisable to divulge is the completeness of the mechanical side of the process. Mr. Bunyan is himself the inventor of all machinery employed, and believes it best to keep all the details of the process as secret as possible. He says however, that one man on the lower floor will be able to attend to the entire process of handling the raw potatoes, and that nearly his whole duty will be to look out for accidents.

CANNING FACTORY IN FULL BLAST

IT WILL START ON CORN SOON

Is Obligated to Work Up to Midnight Now to Preserve the Vegetables.

Spring Brook ureains are in bliss. Monday morning the kraut department of the P. Hohenadel, Jr., canning factory started operation. All day long the youngsters stand about the door of the room where the cores are extracted from the cabbages and munch the toothsome centers that are thrown away as worthless for canning purposes.

Work Late.

Nearly every night this week it has been midnight before the employees in the cucumber and cabbage departments have stopped work. Hundreds of tons of vegetables have been brought in daily and even with the large force that is now at work, it is impossible to finish the work until late. About fifty hands are now at work in the kraut department alone and they are kept busy all the time to handle the cabbages that are brought in.

May Start Corn

It is possible that work will be begun in the corn department before the close of the week. When that department also opens up the factory will be filled with hands. All indications point toward a year of great activity and it is to be hoped that no such accident as hindered work in the plant last year will be repeated this season.

WILL ATTRACT THE CROWD

What undoubtedly will attract a crowd of shoppers is the stocking sale at Bort, Bailey & Co.'s store tomorrow morning. This enterprising firm will place on sale at eight o'clock 480 pairs of ladies' fast black cotton stockings at 8 1-3 cts per pair when 3 pairs are purchased.

OLD SOLDIER RETURNS TO CLAIM HIS ESTATE

David Hartman, After an Absence of Twenty-eight Years, Petitions for Inheritance.

Mattoon, Ill., Aug. 28.—David Hartman, an old soldier, who twenty-eight years ago disappeared from Crawford county, this state, has returned to Robinson, the county seat, and laid claim to his share of an estate. The innocent purchasers will resist on the ground that he is legally dead.

In 1824 Dr. David Wilson of Robinson, died, leaving an estate of 3,500 acres of land, Hartman was one of five heirs. The estate was partitioned, and his daughters, Sarah J. Burkett and Grace O. Alberry, now of Ohio, were awarded his share. They sold 500 acres to other parties.

Recently it was learned Hartman was living at Addy, Wash., ignorant of Dr. Wilson's death or his share in the estate. He has instituted partition proceedings to recover his inheritance.

No Duels in Sweden.

A Swedish writer declares unreservedly that duels have been unknown for many years in the realm of King Oscar. This must be accounted as creditable to the Swedes. France, Germany and other European countries cannot do better than to follow the excellent Scandinavian example.

Hint for Intending Travelers.

If the reader should chance to be going on a trip to the land of Bobbie Burns, we warn him to speak of the native Caledonian as a "Scotsman," but not as a "Scotchman." The sensitiveness on that particular point is growing more intense over there.

High Price for Painting.

At Christie's a portrait by Sir Henry Raeburn was bought by Messrs. Agnew for 6,500 guineas. It shows the two sons of David Monzo Blinning in plum-brown dress, with white ruffs and stockings, seated in a landscape, the canvas measuring 60 by 40 inches.

Great Artists Employed.

George G. Barnard is to do the sculptures for Pennsylvania's new state house, and Edwin A. Abbey the panel paintings. Rumor asserts that Abbey is to get $150,000 for his paintings and Barnard $300,000 for his statues.

ACTORS' PLANS FOR THE COMING SEASON.

Many Changes Contemplated and Many New Stars to Scintillate—A Winsome Little Soubrette.

If there is even a small percentage of accuracy in the various announcements for the coming theatrical season, the dramatic reviewers will have their hands full next winter. There will not be so many new stars as were promised last spring, but there will be more than enough of them for all that.

This star making tendency is run in to the ground largely because the average manager feels that in so far as he multiplies the number of his attractions tions he renders himself independent of the syndicate. The syndicate, on the other hand, feels that the more attractions it has the less vulnerable it is. And so the merry work goes on. Meddlesome are boosted into positions for which they are totally unfit, and the few persons really worthy of stellar distinction are injured by the fact that year by year the support which any star inevitably commands is growing beautifully less.

What the result will be time alone can determine, but just now, to one "on the outside," it looks like a pretty safe thing to predict that there will be a great many unemployed actors in New York in October and later—persons who have drifted in from the wrecks of "the road."

A few years ago, when many theatrical writers, including your humble servant, persisted in the declaration that the local stock company and the traveling "repertory" organization had both come to stay, they were laughed out of court. But subsequent developments have served to justify that prediction. During the season just about to open there will be more local stock and traveling repertory companies than have ever before existed at one time in this country.

The local organizations succeed because they are enabled frequently to obtain at moderate expense the services of really excellent players who dread the strain of incessant traveling. This gives a cast of a degree of merit entirely disproportionate to the salary roll. Besides, these actors in a very short time, through personal intercourse with the townspeople and in other ways, succeed in building up individual followings which add liberally to the weekly receipts of the theater.

With the "repertory" the case is different. These companies very seldom carry good actors, but they play at exceedingly low prices and visit towns but infrequently touched by the more ambitious attractions. Then, too, the inexpensiveness of the company, coupled with the short "jumps," makes it possible for them to play for one week or two at a town which the average actor would denigrate as "a natural one night stand."

These shows are all in a good thing alike for theater goers and the theatrical profession. They afford cheap amusement to one class and steady, if rather poorly remunerated, employment to the other.

Jessie Mae Hall is a very clever little woman who won favor last season by her excellent characterization of Shapely Johnson in William A. Brady's production of "Lovers' Lane." Miss Hall is but 4 feet 8 inches tall and wears a No. 12 shoe (child's size) and a No. 5 glove (misses'). These facts, however, naturally have nothing to do with her ability as a singer or as an actress. Her voice has a compass of three octaves, her top note, which is E above high C, being of a pure soprano quality. When a mere tot, Miss Hall was called upon to sing before the late Emma Abbott, who at the time was at the height of her success. Miss Abbott was so impressed with the little one's voice that she presented her with a photograph and a twenty-dollar goldpiece, both of which are among the many souvenirs now in Miss Hall's possession.

Miss Hall will appear next season in a new musical comedy, upon which two well known authors are now collaborating. MARY A. BARTOW.

QUEEN OF THE CARNIVAL

By E. Francis Moran.
Not marble nor the gilded monuments
Of Princes shall outlast this powerful rhyme.

I.
This is to us the day of days,
Sky blue and verdure green,
Our voices joyfully we raise
To hail our beautiful Queen.

II.
She is more fair than words can say,
With a most royal mien,
And gladness shines upon the way
Pursued by our loved Queen.

III.
Her head erect, with stately grace,
Mid golden hair's glittering sheen,
She surely comes of royal race,
Our best beloved Queen.

IV.
O never was in history
Liege better loved, I ween;
When seen it is no mystery—
So fair is our sweet Queen.

V.
Upon the faith of her subjects
She can most surely lean;
For what the least of them would vex
Our lady fair, the Queen.

VI.
For her, or in her slightest cause,
Our life-blood we would drain,
And plead obedience to all laws—
Loyalty to our Queen.

VII.
In brief we think her far above
All wonders ever seen;
She has our proud and warmest love—
The great Carnival Queen.

Muenchow-Hager

The ceremony that joined Louis Hager and Miss Anna Muenchow as man and wife was performed yesterday afternoon at four o'clock at St. Paul's Lutheran church in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. Rev. J. C. Koerner officiated and used the double ring service of the church. The bride was attended by the Misses Mary Berewitz and Alma Buggs, while Charles Muenchow and John Hager acted as groomsmen.

After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where a reception was held and a wedding supper served at five o'clock. The house was handsomely decorated with flowers and plants and presented a charming picture. During the evening the guests enjoyed themselves at various games and dancing. Baldwin & Reifeld's orchestra furnished the music and the festivities lasted until a late hour. Both young people are well known here and have many friends who wish them a happy married life.

ANOTHER FACTORY IS TALKED OF BATTLE CREEK MEN WERE HERE

Like Location for a Cement Brick Factory to Be Established

At a meeting of the Business Men's Club last evening Mr. D. W. Hayes stated to the gathering that in all probability a plant for the manufacture of cement brick would soon be erected in this city. The business was backed by capitalists who were abundantly able to carry out their plans, which would mean another factory almost as large as the cement post company. The gentlemen interested in the plant are Alfred O. Crozier and W. E. Jacques of Grand Rapids, Mich.; H. H. Gross of Chicago and A. C. Wisner of Battle Creek, Mich. These gentlemen arrived in the city Tuesday evening and Wednesday visited the site of the cement post factory and were shown what could be furnished in the way of a location and material. They were well pleased with what they saw and considered the material here much better than that secured in Michigan.

Have One Plant.
They now have a plant in operation at Battle Creek, Mich., and had a number of samples of the product with them. These brick have been subjected to the most severe tests and have been found superior to the ordinary brick. They can be made in different colors and in many different shapes and are hard and durable.

Are Well Pleased.
The gentlemen were well pleased with the outlook and the ease with which material for the manufacture of their product could be secured. They left for Chicago last evening promising to return within a week. The plant they talk about establishing would give employment to about 150 hands.

CLASH IS LIKELY.

Attempt to Start Work in Shenandoah
May Result Seriously.

Shenandoah, Pa., Aug. 28.—The governor's troop has left for Panther creek region. The Second City troop of Philadelphia, with Capt. Schermerhorn in command, will take the place of the governor's troop.

Everything is in a turmoil throughout the region and it is expected the entire National guard of the state will be called out before the strike grows much older. Shenandoah is still the hot bed of the strike, despite the presence of the troops, and if an attempt should be made to operate even a washery here a clash will be sure to occur.

MITCHELL REPLIES.

Says Mr. Hewitt's Statements Are Not
Founded on Fact.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Aug. 28.—President Mitchell replied to Abram S. Hewitt's statement regarding the arbitration of the coal strike. He states that he and Mr. Hewitt have on several occasions discussed the policy of miners' organizations and that it surprised him to find that Mr. Hewitt had given to the public statements neither founded on fact nor justified by any demand made by the miners' union. The statements, he said, were repeated by John D. Crimmins, and he believes the intention was to obscure the real issues involved in the strike and divert the public attention from the unfortunate conditions under which boys and men have to labor in the coal regions.

Unions Must Incorporate.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 28.—Justice Shiras of the United States supreme court, who arrived in Pittsburg from a long vacation, talking of the anthracite coal strike, said:

"Incorporation of all labor unions is the primary step toward the passage of an arbitration law. The unions must be responsible for the carrying out of an agreement, and until they are, there is little hope for compulsory arbitration of labor troubles."

Fire on Constables.

Hinton, W. Va., Aug. 28.—Forty families who were notified to leave the houses of the Red Ash Coal company refused to vacate, and when the constables began to remove their household goods a volley of shots was fired at the officers from the opposite side of the river. They returned the fire.

BRAGG TO ASK FOR TRANSFER

President Desires That He Request
Change to South African Post.

Havana, Cuba, Aug. 28.—It was reported this morning that President Roosevelt has intimated to General Bragg, through the state department at Washington, that a request for transfer from Havana to the consulate generalship of the United States soon to be credited with jurisdiction in British South Africa would meet with official approval.

Gage Meets Defeat.

Sacramento, Cal., Aug. 28.—The most hotly contested factional fight in the history of the Republican party in California came to an end when the sixth ballot was taken in the state convention for the gubernatorial nomination and Dr. George C. Pardee of Oakland was declared the nominee.

May Be Bartholin.

Chicago, Aug. 28.—A man fully answering the description of William Bartholin, who is charged with the murder of his mother and his sweetheart, Minnie Mitchell, was arrested at Indiana Harbor, a small town two miles southeast of Whiting, Ind.

Miss Mildred Curtis of Madison is the guest of Prof. and Mrs. Brace.

IN A QUANDARY.

"Goose!" said my husband, just as he was leaving the house this morning. I wonder whether he wants some for dinner or whether he meant me?"—Megendorfer Blaetter.

IN THE POLICE COURT.

Wife—Judge, yo' honor, he done smashed my head with a chair.

Prisoner—I ain't 'sputin' my wife.

Judge—Six months.

Wife—Judge, yo' honor, don't sen'

him down, 'cause if he beats me it's a suah sign he loves me.—Washington Star.

HEROIC MEASURES.

"Goodness gracious, Tommy, why do you make such a terrible din?"

"Keeping the baby quiet."

"But where is the baby?"

"Why, under the tin."—Brooklyn Eagle.

OUT OF THE MOUTH OF BABES.

Mamma—You mustn't bowl your hoop in the front on Sunday. You must go into the back garden.

Tommy—Isn't it Sunday in the back garden, mamma?—Punch.

THE REASON WHY.

Jack—It's no use; your father won't listen to me, and yet you assured me that he wanted to get you off his hands.

Helen—Perhaps that's why he won't listen to you.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

JANESVILLE TO HAVE FACTORY

D. W. Hayes, C. S. Jackson, Phily Nerecross and others made short talks on the best plan of raising the balance of the bonus. The chair named A. E. Bingham, Robert Boatwick, F. L. Clemens, V. P. Richardson, W. H. Greenman and Albert Schaller as a committee to solicit the balance of the subscription.

Mr. Thoroughgood.
A Gazette correspondent having a talk with Mr. Thoroughgood this morning regarding the Vander Porch Shag Co. said: "The proposition made by their representatives at the meeting of the Business Men's association last night was a clean cut proposition and one that Janesville cannot afford to allow to lose. Their business and the men holding the stock (none of which is for sale) is one that we have not often had the pleasure of securing so cheaply. The response to the subscription of $1,000.00 last night, was, to say the least, very encouraging, and no doubt the subscription paper when presented will be subscribed liberally to so the company can at once commence building their plant, which they stand ready to do."

New Factory.
I may also tell you that the Button Factory, just north of the Thoroughgood & Co. factory is almost assured to be occupied by a Mr. Vinnedge of St. Joseph, Mich., as a paper box factory. Mr. Vinnedge will use his own means. He don't ask or won't accept any help and is a practical paper box manufacturer of many years' experience. The gentleman has been in Janesville; looked the ground over and is pleased with our city. The factory will be supplied with steam heat and put in convenient shape for a modern paper box factory and with the latest machinery.

The statement made by Mr. Hayes of the Hayes Bros. of still another manufacturing plant coming here is very pleasant news. I have lived in Janesville for the past thirty-seven years and it now seems to me that Janesville is now waking up. Let us all put our shoulder to the wheel and assist these enterprises as our means will admit. We surely have the banner city of the west and out to interest ourselves all that is possible to still improve it."

Big Fire at Judyville.

Judyville, Ind., Aug. 28.—The harness manufactory and seven other buildings belonging to John F. Judy were destroyed by fire last night. The loss is $100,000, with insurance of $50,000.

Washery Burns.

Hazleton, Pa., Aug. 28.—The Klondike washery at Trescow, owned and operated by Joseph Seager of this place, was burned, causing a loss of $7,000.
